

Congratulations to Hugh Buxbaum and Nolan Stevenson!

Acting Out Productions and Duck Soup Troupe productions will be producing the play "The Witches" at The Firehouse Center for the Arts in October. This is part of a month long Roald Dahl celebration. The first event, a Roald Dahl gala was held at The Firehouse September 30. During the program people in the community were awarded a special award. The award is called "The Ordinary-Extraordinary Award".

This award is based on recognizing ordinary people among us who do ordinary things, which end up making an extraordinary difference, or ordinary people who are doing ordinary things in extraordinary ways.

The inspiration comes from Dahl's "Witches": those particular ladies are Ordinary-Extraordinary in a not-so-wonderful way. But it only takes a moment to look around in our own lives and find dozens of people among us who are ordinary-extraordinary in a multitude of remarkable ways, who make a difference in the world every single day, and who sometimes go unnoticed. This is a way to recognize those people, and the difference they are making in our community.

Two Immaculate Conception School Students were honored. Below is their nomination letter:

öThinking of this description of ordinary people who are doing ordinary things in extraordinary ways, two students immediately came to mind. Hugh Buxbaum (Grade 6) and Nolan Stevenson (Grade 4) are both former students of mine who exemplify a strong work ethic, positive attitude, and kindness towards their family, peers, and faculty. Their actions are exactly as they should be; the ways they carry those actions through are extraordinary. They are quiet, polite, and dedicated young men who have left a positive impression on me. I feel these two students absolutely do ordinary things in extraordinary ways on a daily basis.ö

Sincerely,
Evelyn M. Pike
Grade One Teacher
Immaculate Conception School
Newburyport, MA